

Discover the Joy of a Spiritually Vibrant Household

Recent Barna Group studies developed in partnership with Lutheran Hour Ministries have revealed much about the state of religion in North America and how faith is perceived and discussed in public. But what about how faith is being nurtured in private—with the spouses, children, parents, roommates and even frequent visitors who spend time under our roof?

The timeliness of this research is so important since people are spending more time at home than they have before. This makes for a great opportunity to examine our own households and start practices that we can continue in the future.

Research-Based Resources

The second of three rounds of research LHM conducted with Barna Group produced key insights that led to the development of new resources to grow your household of faith:

- The Spiritually Vibrant Home
- 30 Days of Household Devotions

What do spiritually vibrant households look like? And can households armed with that knowledge strive to become more spiritually vibrant? In his new book titled The Spiritually Vibrant Home, LHM Content Development Manager Don Everts uses award winning research to answer those questions.

Are you interested in starting a devotion in your home, but don't know where to begin? The 30 Days of Household Devotions booklet opens with several tips on doing devotions in your home before leading into 30 daily devotions that can be used consecutively or occasionally per time and topic based on your household's needs.
